

Radisson Blu Resort, St Julian's Malta shakes things up at the World Cocktail Competition (WCC)

June 28, 2013

Theo Antonelli, the Bars Supervisor at the Radisson Blu Resort, St Julian's has shaken up the island of Malta to become the national winner of the preliminaries of the World Cocktail Competition (WCC). Held in the hotel's ballroom in June and organised by local drinks importers with the Maltese Bartenders Guild, Theo saw off the competition, which included former Maltese champions, with his delicious cocktail. He went on to do Malta proud in the Sparkling category of the International Bartenders Association WCC in Prague, competing against cocktail makers and shakers from more than 60 countries in an intense, close-run competition.
