

Power 50 list in Middle East: Mark Willis, Area Vice President Middle East, is the ninth most powerful hotelier in 2015

September 1, 2015

Mark Willis, Area Vice President Middle East has been named the ninth most powerful hotelier for 2015. The Power 50 is decided by a panel of judges whose decisions were based on the information collated from news stories and interviews conducted over the past 12 months. Each and every hotelier in the Power 50 list had garnered years of hospitality industry experience, developed an in depth knowledge and understanding of the Middle East hospitality industry, and has made a significant impact on their current company.